FIFRA, Federal Insecticide, Fungicide, and Rodenticide Act, Basic Practice Series

In September 2000, Bergeson & Campbell, P.C. (B&C) announced the availability of FIFRA, Federal Insecticide, Fungicide, and Rodenticide Act, Basic Practice Series. The book, which is published by the American Bar Association Section of Environment, Energy and Natural Resources, is intended to assist the legal practitioner, consultant, in-house counsel, or product managers in understanding FIFRA fundamentals, EPA's management of chemical products regulated as pesticides, the process by which products are registered, data compensation issues, and the increasing complexity in the jurisdiction divide between EPA and the Food and Drug Administration, both of which regulate antimicrobial products. An overview of topics include:

- Executive Summary;
- Federal Pesticide Registration Requirements;
- Data Required for Registration;
- Pesticide Tolerances and Food Additive Regulations;
- Reregistration and Data Call-Ins;
- Special Review, Cancellation, and Suspension;
- Adverse Effects Reporting;
- Recordkeeping and Reporting Requirements;
- Exports and Imports;
- Antimicrobial Pesticide Registration;
- Biotechnology Product Regulation;
- What Requirements Apply in the Field;
- Civil and Criminal Enforcement;
- Pesticide Regulation under Other Federal Laws;
