

Greg Schweer

Greg Schweer is currently the Chief of the New Chemicals Notice Management Branch and Acting Chief of the New Chemicals Pre-Notice Management Branch in EPA's Office of Pollution Prevention and Toxics (OPPT). Prior to assuming those positions in January 2008, Greg served as the Chief of the Chemical Testing and Information Branch in OPPT (2003-2007) and as a Scientist in EPA's Office of Science Coordination and Policy (2001-2003). From 1989 to 2001, Greg was Director of the Exposure/Risk Assessment Division of Versar, Inc., an environmental consulting firm, where he managed exposure/risk assessments and regulatory impact assessments for various EPA program offices and other Federal and State agencies.