Bloomfield, NJ – February 1, 2021 – Case Medical, Inc., a 2021 U.S. EPA Safer Choice Partner of the Year is hosting an online event, “Sustainable Cleaning Chemistries for a Healthier World”. The program is geared to healthcare professionals to understand the risks of daily exposure to toxic chemicals and what options are available to increase safety and reduce harm. The program shines a light on hazardous chemicals concealed in ordinary cleaning products, which can result in a wide range of illnesses, from headache, nausea to asthma attacks and COPD.

Case Medical a NJ based manufacturer of products for instrument processing has made safer, more effective cleaning chemistries a corporate mission. The company is recognized by the EPA for its outstanding achievement in the manufacture and formulation of chemical solutions that are equal to or better than products in their class and proven safer for people and for the environment.

“Consumers are looking for sustainable products for economic as well as environmental reasons,” said Marcia Frieze, CEO of Case Medical. “As we face climate change, water shortages, and concerns associated with air quality and fresh water, the need for sustainable products and manufacturing processes is more urgent than ever. We are proud to sponsor this important gathering of healthcare, industry and regulatory experts, and make them available to share information and answer your questions about sustainability and safer chemical usage in your workplace.”

Case Medical is an FDA registered, ISO certified manufacturer of validated, sustainable, and cost- effective products for instrument processing. Visit our website www.casemed.com for more information about our company and our products for infection prevention. We are proud to join our colleagues from the American Sustainable Business Network, Healthcare Without Harm, ToxServices, Bergenson&Campbell, NovoZymes, and Sterile Processing University.
